

GREYHOUND PUPPIES

Because of their value as future racers, greyhounds are seldom available for adoption as puppies. Many people have never seen a greyhound puppy and have asked us what they look like. When they are small, they really do not look much like greyhounds, but by the time they are about three months old, you will start to see greyhound characteristics. Over the years, we have come into contact with many pups at the greyhound farms, and of course, we had to hug and hold them and take some photos. Here are some of our favorite greyhound puppy pix.

